

Infant research and clinical implications

Contents

Introduction	95
Implicit knowledge in infant development and therapeutic context, Massimo Ammaniti	96
Integrating kleinian theory and intersubjective infant research observing projective identification, Stephen Seligman	110
The expanding world of Edward Tronick, Beatrice Beebe, Frank M. Lachmann	136
The role of the other: intersubjective psychic transmissions and pathological structures of the self, Giuseppe Moccia	148